DEDICATION

The Class of 1961 wishes to dedicate this Yearbook to Sterling School's "Angel of Mercy," Mrs. Hagan. As school nurse, she unselfishly tended our ills from colds to fractured shoulders, day and night dispensing medicine and encouragement to all. Her ever present smile and kind words will remain with us forever.

HEADMASTER

MR. NORMAN E. RIOUX

The class of 1961 marks the largest graduating class in the history of Sterling School, and we therefore must bid another fond farewell to the largest number of boys ever to leave Sterling at one time. Many of you have been here from that first rainy day in September three long years ago, and we have come to know you and count on you so much since then. Others have arrived on the campus at Craftsbury Common more recently, but nevertheless have assumed your rightful place as an important member of the class of 1961.

Many are the projects which you have seen to completion, and, of course, many are those hopes which must yet be realized. The members of the class of 1961 have set an especially high goal for other classes to meet in terms of loyalty and devotion to the School and its needs. Certain members will be sorely missed, and not easily replaced in their several capacities.

I know that I speak for the faculty and staff when I invite you to return often to Sterling. In the periods of time between those visits I know that we count on occasional letters to keep us informed of your whereabouts and accomplishments. The latter, we are confident, will be sizeable. Good luck and Godspeed to you in every possible way.

This year, the third successful year of Sterling School, we have shown much progress both academically and in the physical plant. Sterling School has been endowed with a spirit which has led it through trials and tribulations. We have now proved ourselves, and one can only foresee that each new year will bring special advancements. It is this fine spirit which has led us to where we are now. It cannot help but to continue.

Speaking in behalf of the Senior Class of 1961, I wish to extend my sincere appreciation to the student body for their fine co-operation. Our most humble thanks goes to the faculty for all they have so faithfully done.

My best wishes to everyone for the future.

John Adams
